

Sebastian Wyss - Violin

British Violinist Sebastian Wyss has just completed his MA studies at Liszt Academy Budapest with Adam Banda. He completed his undergraduate and postgraduate certificate studies in Royal Birmingham Conservatoire with Susanne Stanzeleit. During his time at the Conservatoire he won the string prize, the Herbert Lumby sonata prize, the Sheila and Corina Hodge memorial prize for violin and piano duo and the Meher Rohi Gazder scholarship for promising violinists. He studied first in Budapest on the Weingarten scholarship and during this time won the first prize for Violin and Piano in the Leo Weiner competition. In June 2022 he recorded a set of romantic violin works for Hungarian Bartok radio. Sebastian has played at many concert halls as recitalist, soloist and orchestral musician including Manchester Bridgewater hall, Sage Gateshead, Budapest music centre, Zeneakademia Nagyszerem, Birmingham Symphony Hall, St Mary's Perivale and Obudai Tarsaskor to name a few. He has studied in masterclasses with Gyorgy Pauk, Henning Kraggerud, Esther Yoo, Bin Huang, Dmitri Sitkovetsky, Jian Wang and many others. In chamber music over the years Sebastian has worked with Robin Ireland, Marta Gulyas, Magnus Johnstone, Alasdair Beatson and Alexander Baillie. Sebastian has recently also worked closely with Jozsef Lendvay.